ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS AIR FORCE INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (AFIA)

This regulation is the official summary statement (Chartbook) for AFIA organization and functions. Organizational structures within functional staff agencies must follow the standards and arrangements prescribed by AFR 26-2. The Manpower and Organization Division (AFIA/MO) is the Office of Primary Responsibility (OPR) for obtaining approval of proposed changes for mission, organizational, and functional aspects of all AFIA elements. Proposals for changes to approved organization functions described in this regulation must be sent to the Chief, Manpower and Organization Division. Changes in organizational structure or to mission or function statements must not be implemented or represented as official in publications, organization charts, or any other way without AFIA/MO approval.

The term "Air Force Intelligence activities" used throughout this regulation refers to the Assistance Chief of Staff, Intelligence, and Air Force Intelligence Agency activities. See attachment 1 for an alphabetical list of abbreviations used throughout this publication.

b. Maintains liaison with and conducts periodic visits to MAJCOMs, SOAs, and other military services and defense agencies on matters related to MC&G and geophysics.

c. Provides US Air Force representation on national and international MC&G groups to make sure national and Air Force interests are represented. Serves on the Air Standardization Coordination Committee Working Party 64. Takes part in other working groups as directed.

d. Monitors Air Force officer and enlisted cartographic geodetic career fields. Monitors Air Force MC&G manpower and personnel resources and advises AFMPC on career development and assignment actions. Monitors or manages accession, classification, utilization, education, and training of US Air Force personnel in those career fields.

e. Collaborates with the Air Force Intelligence Plans and Systems Directorate (USAF/INX) in the development and application of intelligence collection, exploitation, and dissemination systems to support MC&G production and product exploitation.

f. OPR for AFR 96-3 and contributes MC&G expertise to other Air Force publications as necessary. Coordinates for the Department of the Air Force on DMA instructions relating to standard products and production.

g. Supports a semiannual USAF MC&G Conference that acts as an open forum for discussion of command requirements and for necessary exchange of information.

- h. Conducts production status meeting on standing or ad hoc basis to address Air Force concerns on MC&G production support provided to Air Force organizations by Air Force contractors and/or DMA.
- i. Evaluates the utility and quality of MC&G products and services provided by DMA. Recommends inspection items to appropriate inspection agencies as requested or necessary. Acts as program counterpart office for established programs with MC&G interests.
- j. Conducts product reviews as necessary.
- k. Reviews SONs, SORDs, SOCs, PMDs and other system acquisition documentation as necessary to ensure MC&G impacts are adequately addressed, including PE 63259F (Cartographic Applications for Tactical and Strategic Systems). Coordinates and validates MC&G requirements for new products submitted by MAJCOMs and SOAs. Identifies and explains new MC&G requirements to MAJCOMs and SOAs, as well as the requirements for developing associated plans and programs.
- l. Coordinates and validates current and projected requirements for new or modified MC&G products and services to support RDT&E activities, and new weapon operations and supporting techniques.
- m. Conducts periodic reviews and assesses responsiveness of DMA to Air Force requirements.
- n. Develops specifications for new or modified MC&G materials to include target materials and flight information matters.
- o. Conducts technical interchange meetings on a standing or ad hoc basis to address Air Force concerns on MC&G technical support provided to Air Force organizations by Air Force contractors and/or DMA.
- p. OPR for AFR 96-9 and contributes MC&G expertise to other Air Force publications as necessary. Coordinates for the Department of the Air Force on DMA instructions relating to new requirements definition and validation.

9-5. Responsibilities of the Target Intelligence Center (INTC).

- a. A multipurpose organization consisting of integrated active force personnel and reserve mobilization augmentees providing support to peacetime Air Staff manning, equipment, and training requirements as well as specialized support for contingency or wartime operations as necessary.
- b. Tests and evaluates targeting concepts, methodologies, and or supporting target materials and data bases.

c. Tests targeting-related computer hardware and software for Intelligence Data Handling systems (IDHS) in a controlled environment prior to field deployment.

d. Acts as a critical USAF repository for selected targeting and MC&G data to support special Air Force planning activities and operations efforts.

e. Acts as program and resource manager for targeting Intelligence Mobilization Augmentees (IMAs) in the Air Force Intelligence Reserve (AFIR) program.

f. Develops and manages methodologies pertaining to target data base management, target validation and specialized target analysis applications.

g. Utilizes target information analysis, data integration, and weaponeering to support Air Staff and MAJCOM requirements.

h. Reviews and evaluates targeting in support of new missions.

i. Provides responsive targeting expertise to the entire Air Force including the Air Staff and major commands.

j. Provides targeting, weaponeering, and geographic information support expertise to Air Staff crisis and contingency teams.

k. Validates and manages, in coordination with HQ AFIA/INK, the Air Force Future Data Base (AFFDB).

(2) Coordinates the consolidation, review and ranking of command requirements, and submission of programming documentation to HQ USAF.

(3) Monitors the status of programming actions and provides feedback to AFIA organizations.

(4) Maintains liaison with Program Element Monitors (PEMs), other Air Staff elements, and AFIA organizations regarding programming matters.

(5) Briefs command POM initiatives to the USAF/IN Priorities Review Group (PRG).

(6) Briefs command POM initiatives to appropriate panels of the Air Force Board Structure.

m. Serves as the OPR for command programming plans.

n. Serves as the command OPR for statements of operational need (SON) and other research and development (R&D) requirements as outlined in the AFR 57 series, and Air Force directives in the 800 series.

o. Serves as the command focal point for managing R&D requirements.

p. Serves as the AFIA OPR for matters that pertain to planning, developing, formulating, presenting, and substantiating logistics plans, programs, and concepts.

q. Assures logistic compatibility of AFIA plans with JCS, HQ USAF, U & S Commands and other Air Force organizations' war and contingency plans.

r. Prepares, evaluates, and monitors all mobility planning requirements, dispersal actions, and operating procedures for inter- and intra-theater logistics support.

s. Monitors air and surface movements of intelligence personnel and equipment during force deployment and redeployment.

t. Provides the single point of contact within AFIA for all facility matters. Responsible for management of command space studies and allocations.

u. Provides the single point of contact for command approval for host-tenant support agreements, command support agreements, and other commitments and agreements between AFIA and other organizations.

v. Participates in logistics exercises involving AFIA and USAF forces.

w. Serves as Command Equipment Management Office (CEMO) and the command OPR for matters pertaining to the Air Force Equipment Management System.

x. Serves as the command OPR for planning, acquisition and use of government vehicles.

y. Responsible for command War Readiness Materiel (WRM) program: ensures compliance with higher headquarters directives, monitors posture status for the command, and provides guidance and assistance to subordinate units as required.

SECTION Q -- DIRECTORATE OF INTELLIGENCE RESERVE FORCES (RE)17-1. Organizational Structure. See Figure 17-1.

17-2. HQ AFIA/RE Mission. AFIA/RE directs the Air Force Intelligence Reserve (AFIR) and develops a combat ready reserve force to support active force intelligence operations during peacetime contingencies or wartime mobilization. Manages Individual Mobilization Augmentee (IMA) positions which have been established by the major commands (MAJCOMs) and separate operating agencies (SOAs), validated by the Air Staff (AF/PRM), and transferred to the Air Force Intelligence Agency (AFIA) for centralized control.

17-3. Responsibilities of the Office of the Director (RE).

a. Directs and manages an intelligence reserve field organization consisting of 10 geographic regions (managed by reserve colonels), the AFIR-SAC network, and 75 Intelligence Reserve Detachments (IRDs) which provide intelligence skill proficiency training and active force mission support. Appoints Regional/Network Directors (RDs) and IRD Commanders (IRD/CCs).

b. Advises the ACS/I, HQ USAF on intelligence reserve matters. Represents the ACS/I at meetings with key personnel at the Department of Defense (DOD) and Air Force secretarial level and at the senior Air Staff level. Maintains liaison with 25 supported MAJCOMs/SOAs on behalf of the ACS/I regarding reserve matters.

c. Provides guidelines on the organization, oversight and evaluation of intelligence training as well as peacetime and contingency utilization of Air Force Intelligence Reserve resources in a broad spectrum of intelligence functions.

d. Develops and implements short term and long-range program objectives. Prepares and coordinates POM submissions.

e. Performs Staff Assistance Visits (SAVs) to IRDs.

17-4. Responsibilities of the Intelligence Operations Division (REO).

a. Utilizes reservists who possess a wide variety of military specialties to maintain or increase their proficiency and mobilization readiness.

b. Coordinates and provides qualified reservists to fill intelligence reserve support requirements of DOD, HQ USAF, MAJCOMs, and Unified and Specified Commands on an annual and special tour basis.

c. Coordinates and manages reserve forces in support of active force intelligence production requirements including local and remote tasking of IRDs.

d. Coordinates and monitors Reserve Soviet Awareness Briefing Team Program.

e. Develops man-day requirements, Reserve Personnel Appropriation (RPA) and Military Personnel Appropriation (MPA), to provide for operational, administrative, and reserve training requirements.

f. Allocates RPA man-days to fund special tours for training and support of training of IMAs to maintain or increase proficiency and mobilization readiness.

g. Allocates MPS man-days to fund special tours in direct support of active force requirements to meet critical, temporary active force manning needs which cannot be met economically by active force readiness.

h. Schedules and manages annual and special tours for IMAs.

i. Schedules and evaluates SAVs performed by RDs and RD Staff.

j. Manages IMA readiness program including field readiness assessments.

k. Reviews and provides inputs to AFIA, USAF/IN, MAJCOM, and JCS operations and exercise plans.

l. Develops operating instructions (OIs) for operational matters and functions utilized in the directorate and the IRDs.

m. Functions as directorate liaison with all supported MAJCOMs/SOAs.

n. Schedules newly appointed RDs and IRD/CCs orientation visits.

o. Reviews and monitors Host Tenant Support Agreements (HTSAs) and Memorandum on Understanding (MOU) between IRDs and host installations.

p. Functions as OPR for IRD activation/deactivation.

q. Recommends appointment of regional directors, regional staff, and IRD commanders.

17-5. Responsibilities of the Program Support Division (REP).

a. Monitors personnel related actions pertaining to intelligence reservists' careers, including retirements, good years, promotions, commissioning program, etc.

b. Develops and manages intelligence reserve recruiting and retention. Evaluates applicants for AFIR.

c. Initiates mobilization (day) command and IRD assignments and reassignments.

d. Maintains master AFIR manning documents.

e. Coordinates and approves attachments for inactive duty training (IDT) of personnel assigned to other reserve programs.

f. Manages Air Force participation in the Reserve Attache Program administered by Defense Intelligence Agency.

g. Develops procedures and periodically tests the automated IMA mobilization system in coordination with AFIA/REO, HQ ARPC, and HQ AFMPC.

h. Develops and maintains specialized intelligence reserve personnel data encompassing civilian and military intelligence background and skills. Maintains and updates the automated data base.

i. Submits inputs to the Consolidated Reserve Personnel Office for update of the Automated Personnel Data System (APDS) and operates a dedicated APDS terminal.

j. Processes reserve officer effectiveness reports, noncommissioned officer performance reports and letters of evaluation. Reviews and processes all reports prior to their becoming official records.

k. Develops standards, screens, and monitors AFIR officer unit vacancy and enlisted promotions.

l. Manages and administers personnel affairs, including awards and decorations, letters of appreciation, and special recognition programs.

m. Selects candidates for the Reserve Airman Commissioning Program.

n. Monitors ARPC personnel actions on AFIR assets including retirements.

o. Initiates and monitors personnel security investigations for AFIR members. Requests security clearances and sensitive compartmented information (SCI) access eligibility and initiates other automated security clearance approval system actions via the APDS. Certifies security clearances to IRDs and remote flights.

p. Coordinates SCI access for reservists for inactive duty training (IDT) and active duty tours. Establishes and monitors SCI billet structures for reservists' inactive duty training at IRDs.

q. Manages the AFIR Human Intelligence (HUMINT) and Language program.

r. Processes requests for mandatory and special school tours. Selects reserve personnel for skill proficiency upgrade and career broadening courses.

s. Maintains liaison on intelligence reserve management related matters with the Air Staff, HQ ARPC, HQ AFMPC, MAJCOMs, Unified Commands, and SOAs.

t. Manages skill proficiency upgrade and officer classification actions. Monitors ancillary training.

u. Administers weight management program.

SECTION R -- COMMUNICATIONS/COMPUTER SYSTEMS DIVISION (SC)

18-1. Organizational Structure. See Figure 18-1.

18-2. HQ AFIA/SC Mission. AFIA/SC provides technical liaison and assistance to USAF/IN and AFIA functional activities on all aspects of computer systems and related communications support.

18-3. Responsibilities Assigned. AFIA/SC:

- a. Provides the focal point for Computer Systems plans, architectures, and systems integrations.
- b. Reviews and validates functional statements of requirements and insures that requested capabilities are in consonance with Air Force SC policies and the Air Force Intelligence architectures.
- c. Provides command unique software applications development and proper maintenance.
- d. Provides configuration management and quality assurance of command owned computer assets.
- e. Provides computer operations and management of the command SCI computer facility (IDHS/AMHS) and associated peripheral equipment to support intelligence analysis.
- f. Provides user activities with small computer technical support for both hardware and software as outlined by AFR 700-26.

SECTION S -- DIRECTORATE OF INTELLIGENCE DATA MANAGEMENT (IND)

19-1. Organizational Structure. See Figure 19-1.

19-2. HQ AFIA/IND Mission. Provides functional management of Air Force Intelligence Data Handling Systems (IDHS) worldwide to ensure effective support to operational commanders. Oversees the acquisition, implementation and development of IDHS.*

a. Promulgates policy regarding USAF IDHS.

b. As the IDHS Standard Communications-Computer System Manager (SCSM) under the AFR 700-series, reviews, validates, approves and advocates IDHS requirements.

c. Prepares tasking documents to specify level of effort required from supporting commands/agencies. Directs acquisition contract planning, program management, and overall life cycle system support.

d. Manages the execution of USAF IDHS programs worldwide throughout the Five Year Defense Plan (FYDP):

(1) Ensures consistency with USAF communications-computer systems plans, theater and MAJCOM architectures and Air Force intelligence plans.

(2) Ensures requirements are appropriately mature, programmed funds are adequate and projects are managed according to USAF standards.

(3) Pursues minimum life cycle costs, high reliability and maintainability.

(4) Applies appropriate emerging and commercial off-the-shelf (COTS) technologies.

(5) Identifies and migrates common IDHS solutions to multiple users.

e. Acts as the USAF point of contact for the Department of Defense Intelligence Information System (DODIIS) and as the DODIIS Executive Agent for standard systems as agreed to by the Assistant Chief of Staff/Intelligence (ACS/I) and the Director, Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA).

f. Acts as the USAF point of contact for Sensitive Compartmented Information (SCI) computer security.

g. Acts as USAF/IN point of contact for USAF IDHS program and acquisition management principles.

*(IDHS: "Information Systems that process and manipulate raw information and intelligence data as required. They are characterized by the application of general purpose computers, peripheral equipment and automated storage and retrieval equipment for documents and photographs" JCS Pub 1).

19-3. Responsibilities of the Plans and Resources Division (INDX).

a. Develops and reviews IDHS initiatives from concept exploration through a formal, approved statement of functional requirements.

b. Develops the Program Management Directive (PMD) tasking AFSC with the improvement of IDHS. Approves Program Management Plans (PMP). Participates in Air Staff reviews of the Air Force Intelligence Communications-Computer Systems Plan (AFICCP).

c. As IDHS SCSM, performs responsibilities outlined in Air Force 700-series regulations and as further explained by the USAF Communications-Computer Systems Plan, the AFICCP, and the USAF PMD For Improvement of Selected Intelligence Data Handling Systems. Implements actions mandated by the DIA IDHS Management Responsibilities Plan, JCSM-SM-357-74.

(1) Reviews MAJCOM automation requirements and design specifications to ensure compatibility with existing plans and architectures. Ensures optimal use of standard systems and interfaces. Recommends approval/disapproval action on standard or unique requirements within AFIA/IND authority level. Reviews and makes recommendations through AF/SC to SAF/FM for all IDHS requirements above SAF/FM specified cost thresholds.

(2) Reviews, revises and appraises command IDHS Communications-Computer Systems Requirements Document (CSRD) submissions; prepares, issues and maintains Communications-Computer Systems Directives (CSDs); and reviews and maintains Communications-Computer System Program Plans (CSPPs) per USAF 700-series regulations.

d. Provides oversight, planning and policy guidance to USAF IDHS developers and users to focus new initiatives to standardize systems to the maximum extent practical. Determines which systems are to be managed by AFIA through their life cycle. Reviews requests for support from non-USAF and/or non-intelligence agencies and recommends a course of action to AFIA/IND.

e. Serves as focal point for policy and planning interaction with Air Staff organizations, DIA, AFSC, other USAF MAJCOMs and federal agencies.

f. Oversees development of overall technical architecture, definition of future enhancements and maintenance of the interface control documents for standard systems.

g. Represents the ACS/I on all matters that relate to the operational security of IDHSs that process SCI and other foreign intelligence. Advises USAF/INS on formal system accreditation for those automated data processing (ADP) systems under the security cognizance of the ACS/I that process, store, use, produce, or transmit foreign intelligence information.

h. Provides technical support, assistance and recommendations, as required, to USAF and contractor personnel on all aspects of SCI computer operational accreditations.

i. Supports program element monitors (PEMs) for General Defense Intelligence Program (GDIP) IDHSs, intelligence communications and Tactical Air Intelligence Systems (TAIS) program elements and activities.

j. Provides for interchange of automated data processing system (ADPS) requirements, procedures and policies by facilitating information exchange. Conducts periodic reviews of IDHS application and development efforts at operational sites.

k. Coordinates funding and expenditure rates for procuring new equipment.

l. Coordinates funding for contractual support and monitors rates of expenditure.

m. Prepares, coordinates and issues guidance to command IDHS activities regarding funding responsibilities for installed or planned systems as a supplement to HQ USAF GDIP guidance.

n. Prepares ADP GDIP Plan and budget submissions.

o. Coordinates on programming and budgetary matters related to assigned IDHS, intelligence communications and TAIS programs.

p. In coordination with HQ USAF/SC, Command Communications-Computer System Staff Officers (CSSOs), and Intelligence staffs, ensures that:

(1) Proper research and development, procurement, military construction, and operations and maintenance resources are allocated to USAF IDHS projects.

(2) Associated USAF manpower and external contractual support, if required, are reflected in requirements and funding documents. Consolidates command requirements and maintains, in detail, consolidated resource and funding data.

19-4. Responsibilities of the Systems Development Division (INDD).

a. Manages programs selected as standard, or potentially standard, USAF IDHS from development of system specifications through Initial Operational Capability (IOC).

b. Manages the development of system functional designs, system specifications and standard interface control documents to provide external system developers the necessary technical data for interfacing with baseline systems.

c. Oversees the development of standard software.

(1) Assists INDX and operating commands in identifying and consolidating automated system capabilities to support intelligence mission requirements. Reviews functional description of necessary automation support to ensure maximum use of existing software, technical adequacy, and inter-operability with other USAF intelligence systems.

(2) Provides oversight and guidance to system developers on standard system design, hardware configuration, and software design to ensure technology transfer of standard system or components, and inter-operability with existing systems.

(3) Monitors software design and development progress through detailed design reviews, consultations, and periodic progress reports. Enforces compliance with requirements statements, functional descriptions and implementation plans.

d. Provides Air Staff oversight of IDHS programs and provides liaison to selected program offices to promote technology sharing and compatibility.

e. Reviews, revises, and approves command IDHS statements of work for systems which are candidates for becoming standard systems.

f. Responsible for technical interaction with national and service agencies on subjects that relate to ADP support to the USAF Intelligence mission.

g. Provides technical counsel to INDX and USAF commands to ensure that future developments support an early transition to standard intelligence systems for continued and enhanced inter-operability. This ensures increased productivity of intelligence resources while limiting expenditures.

h. Participates in ADP Source Selection Evaluation Board functions and technical evaluations that pertain to IDHS.

i. Manages the development of standard hardware/software systems to provide responsive intelligence automation support to operational users utilizing standard COTS hardware wherever appropriate for reliability and life cycle costs. Directs the acquisition process for consolidated procurements of standard IDHS support hardware.

j. Coordinates with and assists INDX and national agencies in developing intelligence automation policy and procedures. Provides assistance to supported commands or agencies in developing DODIIS system interfaces.

k. Maintains liaison with national imagery system development agencies. Manages development of interface control documents to provide stability and inter-operability among dependent systems.

l. Oversees the development and maintenance of standard data base management systems (DBMS) for intelligence support. For government owned software, ensures that all maintenance and enhancement actions are according to prioritized user requirements and published quality assurance standards.

19-5. Responsibilities of the Systems Operations Division (INDC).

a. Manages programs selected as standard USAF IDHS from IOC through System Life Cycle.

b. Recommends, as appropriate, transfer of standard systems management to other agencies.

c. Controls changes to operational systems through strict configuration management practices. Coordinates with users in defining priorities for enhancement to the systems. Determines priority for fixes identified by the users as mission critical.

d. Reviews, revises, and approves statement of work (SOW) for external assistance for standard systems.

e. Monitors external assistance contracts for worldwide, on-site maintenance of standard systems to ensure quality, compliance, and useability.

f. Conducts site surveys at planned sites to advise the site of essential actions regarding site preparation, system accreditation and training.

g. Coordinates activities of site, software system contractor, DIA and Defense Communications Agency (DCA) to ensure that hardware availability, software installation, training and accreditation pre-tests are conducted in an efficient manner.

h. Assists site, DIA and DCA in conducting formal system accreditation tests.

i. Provides policy and guidance to contractors developing and maintaining standard IDHS software and to external commands developing site-specific systems.

(1) Supports INDX in the concept development to ensure requirements traceability, inter-operability with installed systems and compatibility with long range architectures.

(2) Supports INDD in system development actions to ensure compliance with USAF standards and to ensure development is consistent with stated requirements.

j. Supports life cycle management through configuration management of baseline software systems, software testing and maintenance of a central documentation library.

k. Defines, directs, implements and maintains an AFIA quality assurance program which will be applicable to all standard IDHSs throughout their life cycle to provide the management and technical oversight that insure product integrity.

(1) Enforces configuration management disciplines, tracking each baseline component of a system at specific points during development in order to control changes to the system's configuration and maintain system integrity and traceability throughout its life cycle.

(2) Directs the definition, documentation and coding of software standards to ensure that the product meets or exceeds specified standards during its development cycle.

(3) Implements verification and validation disciplines to ensure that software performance requirements are stated and interpreted correctly and that these requirements are met.

(4) Performs testing and evaluation on all software modules and systems to assess how well a product meets objectives in direct support of the end user.

1. Advises Director, IND on problem areas and provides proposals and cost estimates for implementing hardware configuration management on selected standard systems.

SECTION T -- DIRECTORATE OF ATTACHE AFFAIRS (INH)

20-1. Organizational Structure. See Figure 20-1.

20-2. HQ AFIA/INH Mission. The mission of AFIA/INH is to select and train Air Force attaches and enlisted attache support personnel for the Defense Attache System (DAS), and to provide direct USAF operational and representational support to attache personnel both while in training and once assigned, to over 63 Defense Attache Offices situated in US Embassies world-wide.

20-3. Responsibilities Assigned. AFIA/INH:

a. With the assistance of HQ USAF and AFMPC:

(1) Reviews, evaluates, and nominates highly qualified officers and enlisted personnel for assignment to the DAS.

(2) Monitors personnel actions that affect Air Force personnel assignments to the DAS.

(3) Integrates DAS requirements into the Air Force Intelligence Career Development Program.

b. Provides recommended selection standards for identifying and selecting attache personnel. Also maintains Operating Instructions (OIs) to operate selection boards.

c. Monitors the applicable manuals and regulations that list the requirements and procedures for attache duty, changes as appropriate and advertises general career data and openings in the field.

d. Maintains contact with personnel who have served in the DAS for potential assignment to other air attache positions.

e. Prepares plans and outlines procedures that involve Air Force participation in the DAS according to HQ USAF policy guidance. Develops and recommends changes if required.

f. Assists other AFIA elements in supporting those DAS activities that are Air Force controlled or that require unilateral Air Force action.

g. Prepares and conducts briefings on the mission of the Directorate of Attache Affairs and attache duty. Presents such briefings to interested agencies as directed by the Directorate of Attache Affairs.

h. Coordinates and monitors U.S. Air Force support of DIA aircraft requirements for the DAS.

i. Establishes and enters attache designates into supplemental training programs to assure broad knowledge of Air Force plans, doctrine, equipment, and capabilities. This is accomplished through formalized briefings or orientation of scheduled training with appropriate civilian (industry) and military activities.

j. Administers the Air Attache Incentive Supply Program (AAISP) and travel funds, with the assistance of AFIA/AC. Coordinates all budget and fiscal activities with AFIA/AC and other agencies as required.

k. Serves as the point of contact for all requests for support from Attaches in the field.

l. Manages the Air Attache Biography Program.

m. Manages the Air Attache Conference Program.

n. Conducts briefings on the mission of the Directorate of Attache Affairs and attache duty.

o. Maintains Attache Manpower Information System.

p. Maintains Air Force publications and forms account.

q. Serves as the Air Force focal point for all Department of Defense, Joint Chiefs of Staff, DIA, and Air Staff matters that involve Air Force interests in the DAS.

r. Serves as liaison between DIA and HQ AFMPC/CCQ on military justice and UCMJ issues affecting USAF personnel serving in the DAS.

s. Monitors training programs and air attache student progression in schools such as the Defense Intelligence College, Defense Language Institute, and Area Specialist Program.

t. Schedules Air Force briefing/debriefing programs for all Air Force officers departing for or returning from overseas duty in the DAS.

u. Maintains personal contact with Air Attaches on matters of interest to the Air Force, primarily through the Attache Affairs Newsletter.

v. Prepares letter of evaluation (LOE) reflecting the representational performance of principal Air Attaches assigned to the DAS.

SECTION U -- DIRECTORATE OF SECURITY AND COMMUNICATIONS MANAGEMENT (INS)

21-2. HQ AFIA/INS Mission. AFIA/INS manages and evaluates all USAF Sensitive Compartmented Information (SCI) security functions. Controls, safeguards and disseminates SCI information. Monitors visit requests and release of SCI information to civilian contractors and other non-Air Force agencies. Manages the worldwide USAF Special Security Office (SSO) system by making sure they comply with SCI security policies and procedures concerning communications, administration, training, physical security, billet management, and personnel programs to ensure SCI security at all organizational levels.

21-3. Responsibilities of the Personnel Security Division (INSB).

- a. Manages the worldwide SCI personnel security program for Air Force military, civilian, consultant, and contractor personnel who require access to SCI.
- b. Performs centralized adjudication for Air Force personnel requiring access to SCI.
- c. Manages the Air Force Intelligence "for cause" discharge review program.
- d. Administers code "B" and "S" programs.
- e. Administers "due process" procedures for SCI denials.
- f. Maintains master personnel security files.
- g. Maintains microfilm of all Air Force Non-disclosure Agreements. Prepares original for permanent retention in archives.
- h. Authorizes the indoctrination of Air Force personnel for SCI information.
- i. Manages the Air Force SCI billet structure. Maintains master Air Force SCI billet and access rosters.
- j. Staffs SCI billet packages and recommends approval/disapproval to higher authority.
- k. Maintains liaison with military department intelligence agencies, and other members of the intelligence community, including Air Force Security Clearance Office (AFSCO), Defense Industrial Security Clearance Office (DISCO) and Defense Investigative Service (DIS) regarding SCI, personnel security, and billet matters.
- l. Staffs all Congressional and Inspector General (IG) inquiries that relate to the SCI program.

m. Staffs all Privacy Act and Freedom of Information Act inquiries that relate to the SCI program.

n. Administers the Air Force Congressional and Foreign visit programs.

o. Point of contact for proposed changes and assistance for the CIA-sponsored Community-Wide, Computer-Assisted Compartmentation Control (4C) System.

21-4. Responsibilities of the Security Operations Division (INSC).

a. Formulates, promulgates, and interprets within the Air Force, DCI policies on security, use, and dissemination of SCI. This encompasses liaison with other governmental departments and agencies and industry representatives.

b. Monitors the effectiveness and provides staff to supervise the USAF Special Security Office (SSO) system, including the validation and accreditation of Sensitive Compartmented Information Facilities (SCIFs) under the security cognizance of the ACS/I. Acts as Air Force single point of contact for problem areas in USAF SSO system operations.

c. Provides overall management of Air Force Sensitive Compartmented Information Physical Security Program for the ACS/I.

d. Provides overall management of Air Force sensitive compartmented information security education/awareness and training program for the ACS/I.

e. Monitors and provides staff to supervise the Contractor Special Security Office (CSSO) program.

f. Represents the ACS/I on SCI Forum, Facilities Protection Working Group and Special Intelligence Communications (SPINTCOM) Management Group. Takes part in other standing and ad hoc committees and panels concerned with the security, use, and dissemination of SCI.

g. Researches, writes and acts as the OPR for AFR 8-3, USAF Intelligence (USAFINTEL) Specialized Publications; AFR 200-7, Sensitive Compartmented Information (SCI) Security System; and USAFINTEL 201-1, The Security, Use and Dissemination of Sensitive Compartmented Information (SCI).

h. Receives and adjudicates requests for approval of unofficial travel by contractor employees and US Air Force military and civilian personnel under the security cognizance of the ACS/I to certain areas designated as hazardous.

i. Receives and adjudicates security violation and compromise reports that involve SCI materials and personnel.

j. Authors, edits, and disseminates recurring informal publications of interest to Air Force SCI activities.

k. Processes requests for release of SCI to US contractors and foreign governments.

1. Establishes and promulgates communication procedures and policies that relate to implementation, operation, and security standards for USAF intelligence communications facilities.

m. Reviews SCI intelligence communications and facility requirements of departmental, joint, and unified or specified command plans and programs for the Air Staff.

n. Inspects all SCI facilities under the ACS/I's security cognizance.

o. Provides technical assistance to Air Force Intelligence Activity Officers and other Air Staff offices on SCI communications, TEMPEST and physical security issues.

p. Reviews, evaluates, and validates requests for Emergency Reaction USAF SSOs (ERSSOs).

q. Reviews, evaluates, and validates requests to install and use Protected Distribution Systems (PDS) and hardened cable paths to process SCI.

r. Validates user requests for SCI authentication codes for Automatic Secure Voice Communications (AUTOSEVOCOM) network. Reviews and coordinates all policy, implementation, and key management actions for Air Force SCI users of Secure Telephone Unit (STU) - III terminals.

s. Manages the National Security Agency Gray Telephone System for all Air Force users within the National Capital Region.

t. Monitors systems and analysis studies of present and proposed communications systems that support Intelligence functions. Establishes plans and programs for upgrading telecommunications equipment based on systems studies.

u. Represents the Air Force Intelligence community on matters relating to consolidation of telecommunications centers involving Defense Special Security Communications System (DSSCS) and General Service (GENSER) communications.

v. Provides assistance to and represents the ACS/I on working groups that relate to Intelligence SCI communications and facility requirements.

w. Based on financial inputs from each division, forecasts, prepares and submits the directorate's annual (OB), 5-year (GDIP), and investment equipment (BPIE) budgets.

x. Verifies and/or corrects directorate's Responsibility Center Manager Monthly Report.

y. Maintains up-to-date records of directorate's expenditures and unobligated balances for TDY transportation and per diem, office equipment rental and maintenance, miscellaneous contract services, supplies, and equipment.

z. Provides directorate membership to the USAF/IN-AFIA Financial Working Group and gives fund status briefings.

aa. Acts as the OPR for the USAF SCI Security Management Course (AFIA 002) per AFM 50-5, The Annual SSO Conference, and The Annual CSSO Course.

bb. Provides recurring SCI security education and training for SCI security officers and administrative personnel assigned to Air Force units worldwide.

cc. Acts as the OPR for the Department of the Air Force (DAF) on requests for SCI products validation per USAFINTEL 201-1.

dd. Acts as the DAF OPR with national level intelligence producers on dissemination requirements for new SCI products.

ee. Maintains SCI products requirement requests, statements of intelligence interest, and mission statement matrix received from all DAF elements for use by national level producing agencies, and for determining SCI product distribution within OSAF, HQ USAF, AFIA, and to HQ AFOSI by AFIA/INSD.

ff. Contributes to the USAF SCI portion of DIA Manual 59-1, Intelligence Dissemination, and submits information for inclusion in HQ USAF Supplement to DIA Manual 59-1, AFR 200-4, USAFINTEL 201-1, and other appropriate publications.

gg. Is the Air Force monitor on requests for release of SCI to US contractors per USAFINTEL 201-1.

hh. Acts as the OPR for HOI 10-5, HOI 205-11, and the HQ USAF SCI Consolidated Product Catalog (CONCAT).

21-5. Responsibilities of the Special Security Division, (SSO HQ USAF) (INSD).

a. Acts as the Special Security Office(r) (SSO) for Office of the Secretary of the Air Force (OSAF), HQ USAF, Air Force Intelligence Agency (AFIA) and direct reporting units and supported elements in the National Capital Region (NCR) per USAFINTEL 201-1 and as the SCI security and control officer for all other SCI control systems for the above offices per appropriate national and departmental directives.

b. Maintains a 24-hour SCI Facility (SCIF) to accomplish all required SCI security functions for OSAF, HQ USAF, HQ AFIA, and Headquarters Air Force Office of Special Investigations (HQ AFOSI), and other agencies and offices as required.

c. Ensures all OSAF, HQ USAF, and HQ AFIA SCI Security Violations are investigated as required by USAFINTEL 201-1.

d. Acts as the focal point with Det 1, 1100 SPS on all security matters involving Sensitive Compartmented Information Facilities (SCIFs) within the Pentagon and with 1100 SPS for AFIA SCIFs located at Bolling AFB.

e. Provides communications and "Black Book" support to the Worldwide Air Force Commanders Conference (CORONA).

f. Conducts annual inspections of SCIFs at OSAF, HQ USAF, HQ AFIA, HQ AFOSI and all supported elements in the NCR per USAFINTEL 201-1.

g. Operates and maintains a terminal to the Defense Facsimile Network (DIFAX).

h. Receives, logs, controls, determines dissemination, reproduces, and distributes SCI materials received or transmitted through the DSSCS or the Defense Courier Service (DCS) for OSAF, HQ USAF, HQ AFIA, HQ AFOSI offices, and other agencies and offices as designated.

i. Provides for immediate processing, handling, and delivery of Critical Intelligence Communication (CRITIC) messages as well as provide for the special handling, control, protection, and delivery of "Special Project Access," "EYES ONLY," "Limited Distribution," "Special Category (SPECAT)," "General Officer," and other limited access DSSCS electrical traffic and SCI documents.

j. Maintains SCI document inventories on specialized SCI documents processed through AFIA/INSD.

k. Provides SCI courier support to senior officials and officers of the Air Staff.

l. Provides recurring SCI security education and training for SCI security officers and administrative personnel assigned to OSAF, HQ USAF, HQ AFIA and other supported elements.

m. Issues AFIA/INSD SCI Courier Cards (AFHQ Form 8), and out-of-area SCI courier authorizations to Air Staff, AFIA, and other offices and personnel as required per USAFINTEL 201-1 and HOI 205-11.

n. Provides SCI physical and communications/TEMPEST, and automated data processing security guidance to US Air Force elements located in the Washington metropolitan area. Prepares and coordinates documentation required to establish new US Air Force SCI access vault areas and communications capabilities in the Pentagon and Washington metropolitan area. Maintain files on all US Air Force SCI accredited areas in the Washington metropolitan area.

o. Monitors technical survey requirements for HQ USAF SCI accredited areas in the Washington metropolitan area.

p. Responsible for SAF, HQ USAF and HQ AFIA SCI personnel security program to include monitoring SCI billets and SCI related personnel actions. Certifies SCI access for OSAF, HQ USAF, and HQ AFIA personnel to other organizations as required. Receives SCI access certifications for personnel visiting OSAF, HQ USAF, HQ AFIA organizations and other supported elements.

22-2. HQ AFIA/INU Mission.

a. Serves as the DOD Executive Agent (EA) action office on behalf of the Secretary of the Air Force for Code of Conduct training.

b. Serves as the JCS EA action office on behalf of the Air Force Chief of Staff for combat survival and related matters.

c. Provides intelligence support in developing combat survival operational tactics, techniques, procedures, publications, equipment, and associated training programs.
